"THE NEED IS URGENT."

SAVE ST. PAUL'S AT ONCE.

"CATHEDRAL OF THE EMPIRE."

Hongkong Begins to Bestir Itself.

"St. Paulin," who wrote on the lack of direction in Hongkong on the matter of St. Paul's Restoration fund, in yesterday's "China Mail" and others like him may shortly have the opportunity of associating themselves with an organised effort.

Nothing definite has yet been decided in regard to the matter and the Bishop of Victoria when approached by the "China Mail" declined to make any statement at present although he indicated that possible steps were being considered.

Indications point to the probability of a special collection being taken at the Cathedral in the near future, but apart from this the idea has been mooted that a public subscription list shall be drawn up for Hongkong firms and private individuals to have an opportunity of contributing something towards the preservation of what is a great monument of British tradition.

It is a move on these lines that the Hongkong Government is doubtless awaiting before the question of any grant from them is raised in Council and which if effect is given to it will certainly influence many who are willing and anxious to give if the necessary organisation is brought into being.

As has already been pointed out, it is only fair that the burden of maintaining in fit condition an edifice that has gathered round it the affection of the Empire for many generations should be shared far and wide, throughout the borders of that Empire and not be left to be carried along by those who dwell in the Homeland. St. Paul's has been rightly referred to as one of the bonds of the Empire and it is one that all should do their best to strengthen. In making his appeal to the Dominions, Dean Inge, of the Cathedral Chapter, said that they were proud to think of themselves as the central church not only of London but the British Empire and as such they had conducted memorial services during the Great War for all sections of the Imperial forces.

Upon receiving the information that Australia and New Zealand were inaugurating funds Sir Alfred Bower, Lord Mayor of London, sent the following message: "The need is urgent. St. Paul's deserves to have come to be known as the Cathedral of the Empire. I am confident that the Dominions will co-operate as far as lies in their power to preserve it both for themselves and future generations of the Empire."

PAINTINGS & DRAWINGS INTERESTING HONGKONG EXHIBITION.

MRS. G. MACPHERSON'S WORK

Mrs. G. MacPherson's exhibition of 32 pictures, representing work done in the Far East and at Home over a period of two years, opened at the Hongkong Hotel this morning. The pictures show the infinite phases of the true artist's moods and will give general pleasure. The pen and ink drawings in particular will excite comment and give rise to discussion. Some show the development from what may be termed the cross-hatched style—pen-ink with a little water colour mixed—to the style which seems to dispense with the latter. The treatment seems to be original; it is certainly very effective as will be seen from a near-distant inspection of the various Hongkong scenes which have been so treated. Whilst opinion will be agreeably diversified as to the merit of the individual pictures, there should be general agreement as to the beauty in most of them. No. 3 which is a study of junks in the mist is a nocturne of subdued colour, in which the sad enveloping sense of a humid morning on the harbour is most beautifully sensed. No. 14 is a bold presentation of the harbour in the early morning, evidently in the early morning. Here there is an agreeable colour blend and the effects are reached in a manner, not over bold, but with an idea of vigorous strength. No. 1 occupies a commanding position and is called "Sea Nymph." The atmosphere of intense grief is shown in the tense position of the kneeling figure, whilst the nymph symbolises peace that is beyond words to describe. In a phantasy (No. 32, The Bowl of Life) the lines of the woman's head are given with a sense of strength wholly admirable. Several paintings of Cheung Chau show the rocky formation of part of the island—No. 4 especially giving a very realistic idea of the actual. Various paintings of Hongkong and the harbour show majestic liners rising gracefully from the water; whilst at the wharf, Kowloon, is a near perfection of the actual as it is possible to get. There is also a touch of realism in No. 28, Takoo Works, in which the idea of the clanging of a shipyard is cleverly conveyed. No. 27, a decorative drawing is beautiful, whilst the sense of distance is cleverly shown in No. 13, Kent. It is impossible to do adequate justice to all the beauty that is shown in the whole of the 32 pictures. An inspection will be well worth any trouble taken. The exhibition will be continued to-morrow from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

PRINCE GEORGE

Not Passenger By
"Mantua."

LAST MOMENT CHANGE

A SUDDEN ATTACK OF INFLUENZA

Owing to cables from Home having stated definitely that all arrangements had been completed for the passage of Sir Lieut. His Royal Highness Prince George, K.G., G.C.V.O., from Hongkong to Hongkong or Singapore by the "Mantua," it had been confidently anticipated by passengers of that boat which arrived in Hongkong this morning, that they would have the pleasure of his company.

Owing to an attack of influenza, however, the Prince's passage was cancelled at the last moment, and although one of his fellow "Subs," who was to have been his companion, made the journey to Singapore, His Royal Highness's arrangements had to be abruptly altered.

Upon enquiry in official quarters this morning the "China Mail" was informed that nothing was known as to arrangements having been made for Prince George to leave Hongkong by the P. and O. boat. It all depended on the Prince's fitness.

WHERE IS CHAN?

REPORTED FLIGHT TO HONGKONG.

SEQUEL TO DEBACLE.

Swatow Falls to Sun Yat-sen Troops.

Faced with a debacle brought about through discord with his troops, General Chan Kwong-ming is reported to have arrived in Canton yesterday on board the s.s. Hangsang from Swatow.

Confirmation is lacking as to Chan's coming to Hongkong. According to the report, he proceeded to Kowloon to the residence of either General Jung Shiu-lun or Commander Wong Fook-chi. He is further said to have left, subsequently, for another house.

There seems little doubt that his troops have vacated Swatow which should now be in the hands of Cheung Man-tat who commands one of Hsu Shung-chi's divisions.

Telegraphic communication between Hongkong and Swatow is interrupted.

On the other hand, the direct land line service from Hongkong to Canton was again connected up this morning. It is hoped that private messages will be sent through the usual route as in time of peace.

Although the line is clear, trains are not running normally from Canton to Samchun on the border. Steps are being taken to restore through communication on the two sections of the Kowloon-Canton

WOMAN GOVERNOR AGAINST SMOKING

Mrs. Miriam A. ("Ma") Ferguson, first woman Governor of Texas, is shown delivering her inaugural address in the chamber of the State House of Representatives, in Austin, immediately following her inauguration. "Ma" Ferguson does not mind so much if a man takes drink, but she is ready, at any time, to start a crusade against smokers. Addressing the Legislature she proposed an immediate tax against smokers to provide $200,000 annually to educate poor children. "If smokers are not interested in the great cause of education," she declared, "all they have to do is to cut out smoking until such time as the desire for smoking would overcome their opposition to education." She would tax cigarettes 10c a thousand for education, and cigars an average of 11 cts. per thousand.

FROZEN OUT.

REPUBLICAN INSURGENTS
BARRED.

WOMEN IN POLITICS.

(Reuter's American Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 5.
The Republicans, having clear working majorities assured in both Houses of Congress, have excluded the La Follette insurgents from their councils, depriving them of committee promotions in the Senate and committee chairmanships in the House of Representatives.

Thus the insurgents have lost power to mould legislation which they possessed to so large an extent in the last Congress.

The House is composed of 233 Regular and 12 Insurgent Republicans; 183 Democrats and five of various Parties. There are two vacancies which will be filled presumably by Republicans.

The Senate is composed of 51 Regular and 4 Insurgent Republicans; 40 Democrats and one Farmer-Labour.

There was only one woman member of the old House, Mrs. Nolan, of California, who retired voluntarily, but there is still a woman member, the new House, Mrs. Mary Norton, Democrat, elected in November, and representing the twelfth New Jersey district. She is the first woman Democrat member.

Carrying returned Chinese emigrants direct from Bangkok to Swatow, the Indo-China s.s. Hangsang reported on arrival at Hongkong yesterday that two deaths and one birth occurred during the voyage.

Mr. Ward is on the general committee of the Hongkong Boxing Association and has been prominently identified with the social and sporting activities of several other institutions. Popular with his colleagues and many others, he will take home with him the good wishes of large number for an enjoyable holiday.

FOR ANEURISM, CANCER ETC.

A new medicine for the cure of Aneurism, Cancer, and Carcinoma by Injection and Internal use.

Most physicians and surgeons have expressed the opinion that Aneurism and Cancer are incurable and many deaths have been caused by these dread diseases. Dr. T. Matsushita, M. B., Professor of the Japanese Imperial University has made a careful study of these diseases for several years and has at last discovered the use of "CARCINOLOYSIN" for injection and internal use. A large number of Japanese patients have been cured by the use of this medicine and it is now becoming well known for its curative properties.

Foreigners have always died of these diseases owing to failure to find a remedy.

Of late Dr. Sun Yat Sen is suffering from cancer of the liver which is a phase of one of the above-mentioned diseases. These suffering from this disease will gradually develop fever, nervous pain, urinary troubles, bad appetite, dizziness and vomiting.

Victims of this disease are advised to immediately procure "CARCINOLOYSIN" from our agent and by taking this internally, or by injecting the progress of the disease will be stopped and results quickly obtained.

Cancer glands will disappear and swollen areas be reduced to a minimum quickly and easily by the use of "CARCINOLOYSIN."

Those having hereditary disease are advised to take "CARCINOLOYSIN" in order to check its activities.

This medicine is the result of long experience and has no injurious effect on those taking it.

FILMS AND VIVISECTION

PARIS EXPERIMENTS.

A PROMISING PROSPECT REVEALED.

An effort to supplant vivisection of living animals by motion picture education—making one vivisection do the work hitherto done by 1,000—was made in a physiology lecture room at Sorbonne recently with complete success.

The experiment was made carrying out the wishes of the City Council of Paris, which has voted a credit for "filming" vivisection in the hope of saving many animals' lives. Professor Lapicq, famous physiologist in the University of Paris, supervised the film, which was taken in his own operating amphitheatre. One of the students vivisectioned a dog, exactly as it is done ordinarily before the rest of the class while the professor explained the organ and functioning.

The subject of the film was heart beats. A big shepherd dog was anaesthetized, first by morphine and afterwards by chloral and attached to the operating table. The student operating opened the throat of the animal, taking out a handful of nerves, veins and arteries, which the professor explained, pointing out the functioning of each. A mechanical, breathing apparatus, attached to a motor and bellows at one end and a silver tube at the other, was set up and the tube introduced into the lungs of the dog, which then was able to breathe through the dissection.

HEART BEATS AS SUBJECT.

An incision of the whole thorax and abdomen was made and the actual heart beats studied while the professor explained and demonstrated the relation between excitement of certain nerves in the heart action. After this was clear to all the students in the class death was produced and the cessation of heart beats was explained as the animal died of asphyxiation.

Although the animal endured no suffering whatever, even the students agreed that the operation was sufficiently horrible to make some other means desirable.

Furthermore, it is stated that any necessary vivisections anaesthesia is impossible as the animal does not react normally when anaesthetized, so the filming may save much suffering in these cases.

The film, therefore, will be taken in every detail, the camera being directly above the operating table.

The official showing of the film to-day proved the complete success of the effort. The most eminent physiologists in France were present in the amphitheatre when the film was shown, and all agreed that the motion picture takes the place of an actual operation admirably.

LIVE ANIMALS NECESSARY.

Sorbonne is now considering using the film for all types of vivisections—operations which hitherto were done hundreds of times during the school year in order to teach the medical students the ordinary organization and the small organism. This will reduce vivisection to the smallest possible minimum, but the professors cannot suppress it entirely, as research demands living animals.

One professor who did not agree with his famous colleagues was M. Gauthier, who said that although the students can learn everything about the body just as well from the film as from a real animal, there is one great disadvantage—the student does not become used to the sight of an operation, which in the case of medical or surgical students is absolutely necessary. M. Gauthier's colleagues declare this is an unfounded objection, and it is likely that the film will supplant by far the largest part of vivisection in physiology classes.

LEARN TO FLY FOR $5

PROPOSED LIGHT PLANE CLUB FOR LONDON.

People may learn to fly at a cost of $5 if the scheme of the Royal Aero Club for forming the Air Council's Light Aeroplane Club in London receives adequate support.

Actually flying fees and club subscriptions would mean an expenditure of about $15, but the flying aspirant, as soon as he became qualified, would receive the $10 Government grant awarded to proficient club members.

Although the Aero Club considers the Air Council's financial aid totally inadequate, it has framed its present scheme to test public feeling. It aims at a minimum membership of 10,000, but if there is a poor response the Club will ask the Air Council for more generous support.

The proposal is to found a club known as the Light Aeroplane section and to maintain a number of single and two-seater dual control machines for the use of members, and to impart a knowledge of the construction, maintenance, repair, and running of aeroplanes.

It is thought that eight hours instruction would enable a pupil to fly, and ten hours for him to obtain the Air Ministry "A" licence. It is hoped to use Hendon aerodrome, and if that is not available, Brooklands. To meet running expenses a subscription of three guineas per annum will be charged for full members, who take instruction; use the machines, and of one guinea for associate members who receive technical knowledge or have passenger flights.

A fixed tariff for flying has not been decided upon, as it will depend on the type of aeroplane acquired. For two-seater dual control machines the charge will not exceed £1.10s. per flying hour, and for a single seater £1.0s. per flying hour. Both charges include the cost of oil and petrol, damage to machine, and third party insurance. Machines ought to be ready for use by March 31.

MURDERER'S SOUL

"I MAY HAVE KILLED HIM"

The trial at Hanover of Hermann, a German of 30, for the murder of 27 youths, was resumed in the week. Its horror is unequalled in the history of criminal courts, but its interest lies in the revelation of the soul of a man with a nature more cruel than that of a beast.

With intolerable repetition, officials have been bringing into court the garments of the murderer's victims. The names of one of the youths who disappeared is called out.

An official of the court comes in with any of the clothes of the victim, which may have been found on Hermann, says "Yes" or "No" to the question of the judge as to whether, in this case, or the other, he is the murderer.

Thus the case of Wilhelm Schmitt. The Judge: Do you admit the case?

Hermann: I must first see the clothes.

Hermann at once recognizes them. "It is possible," he says, "that I killed this Wilhelm Schmitt, but I do not quite know."

CLUB OF THE BRACES.

The sixth case is that of a boy of just under 14, and of his belongings there is nothing more than a gaily coloured pocket handkerchief and a pair of little braces.

The Judge: Did you kill this lad?

Hermann: Yes, if his braces were found in my room I certainly must have.

He passes to the seventh case (Hermann: Yes, I killed him, and the eighth case. "I confess it, I killed this man," he told the judge. "I remember his well."

In the next three cases Hermann's memory failed him. "When I saw him," he says, "I would not say so, but I would not admit murder."

And yet—it is an astonishing revelation—there is a spark of the feeling in the terrible soul of the man. That he once hesitated to answer questions because women were in court. "Are they not ashamed to be present?" he asked.

GERMANY AND SIAM.

COMMERCE TREATY MUCH CRITICISED.

Replying to the Conservative charge made against the Government that the new German-Siam Treaty of Commerce recently concluded, injures Germany's dignity and prestige, Dr. Stresemann, Minister of Foreign Affairs, declared in the Reichstag on February 7, that Germany's position, after losing the world war, necessitated a foreign policy which unquestionably does not always do justice to Germany's dignity and prestige. But Dr. Stresemann said, Germany is no longer a full sovereign state since the conclusion of the Versailles Treaty, so that it is unjust for the Conservatives to hold the Government responsible for this flight.

PUBLIC EXECUTION OF LOOTER AT WUSU.

A summary warning was administered to all and sundry intending looters at Wusui, February 12, when a local character was executed at 12 most public corner of the main road leading from the city to the station.

This man was convicted of having led a band of robbers to a village near the city. After an extremely public execution, the head was sent to the local village as assurance that the ringleader had been executed.

It cannot be said that the ringleader's troops have been entirely blameless as to looting but it can be claimed that the outrages are not sanctioned by the military authorities, and that no one execution has taken place. Both of Chinese and Siamans who have been looted, and this form of summary execution has been a deterrent to further looting.

SCENES IN HOUSE OF COMMONS.

CLYDE ROWDY "NAMED"

Labour Members March Bodily Out.

Following the suspension of a Labour member for unruly conduct, His Majesty's Opposition walked out of the House of Commons yesterday.

QUESTION OF COLOGNE.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, March 5. In the House of Commons the Liberal member, Mr. Fisher, opened the debate on foreign affairs. He hoped Mr. Austen Chamberlain, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, would lift the veil of foreign policy. He pointed out that postponement of the evacuation of the Cologne zone was a very grave step and pressed for publication of the case against the German Government on the subject of disarmament.

The Liberals were very anxious about the language used by Mr. Herriot to the French Press suggesting that the evacuation of Cologne was bound up in French minds with the general question of security.

Mr. Fisher asked: Would the evacuation of Cologne be carried out independently of French concurrence or must the Allies be agreed that the treaty had been observed?

The Liberals unalterably opposed the proposal of an Anglo-Franco-Belgian tripartite. A far more promising suggestion was contained in the reports that Germany had submitted a proposal for a pact guaranteeing the French frontier.

DELICATE POSITION.

Mr. Austen Chamberlain replied that the Opposition was well aware of the caution, even reticence, with which Mr. Chamberlain must speak. He hoped that the House would not blame him if he reserved his opinion. Many subjects were not ripe for decision.

Mr. Chamberlain said as regards Cologne we had not even now got a considered appreciation of the points on which Germany had defaulted, but we knew that some time ago Germany was in default and was not justified in claiming the evacuation of Cologne on January 10.

The policy of His Majesty's Government was directed to securing compliance with substantial necessary measures of disarmament on which the Allies must insist before they could modify the fifteen year period of occupation.

SECRET MESSAGE.

Turning to Mr. Fisher's suggestion that Germany had made proposals to the Allies, Mr. Chamberlain stated his first knowledge of this was a communication which reached him very confidentially and secretly a few weeks back. He immediately said he could receive such communications under an implied pledge that he was not to speak of them to our Allies.

Mr. Chamberlain was constantly interrupted by whispered remarks by Mr. David Kirkwood, the Clyde Labour member, who at length shouted, "What about the Red letter?" when Mr. Chamberlain was referring to the secret document he had received from Germany.

Cheers greeted a warning from the Chairman of Committees that he would suspend Mr. Kirkwood if he did not refrain from interrupting. Mr. Kirkwood rose and shouted at the Chairman, who then ordered him to leave.

Mr. Kirkwood refused to leave and was "named." The Speaker was summoned and Mr. Chamberlain moved the suspension of Mr. Kirkwood, which was carried, after Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the Opposition, had unsuccessfully interceded, contending that Mr. Kirkwood had not been given his proper rights.

LABOUR DUDGEON.

The Speaker asked Mr. Kirkwood to leave, whereupon the Labour members rose and bodily marched out, headed by Mr. MacDonald, amid Ministerial laughter and cheers.

Mr. Chamberlain then resumed his speech.

When Mr. Chamberlain arose again he was greeted with loud cheers. He continued that the fact it was thought necessary to impose secrecy made him a little suspicious of the spirit in which the proposals were made, but the German Ambassador had assured him that Germany always intended to communicate similarly with Paris, Brussels and Rome, and that had been now done.

Mr. Chamberlain emphasised that he did not desire to conceal anything of the Commission's report provided publication would lead to a solution, but the question of publication depended on the Allies' concurrence.

While he was not sure that publication of a mass of large and small details without dis-termination was likely to conduce to the object in view, he pointed out that the occupation of Cologne could not be continued except in pursuance of the clear purposes and provisions of the treaty. (Cheers.)

Adverting to the question of security which he described as of immense and overwhelming importance, Mr. Chamberlain declared the dominant element in Europe to-day was the all-pervading sense of insecurity. No real progress could be made until we had relieved the oppressive fears, haunting the waking and sleeping thoughts of statesmen in many countries.

HIGH HOPES.

Even at the first moment Mr. Chamberlain said that he welcomed a new move by the German Government, and now that they had substantially repeated the proposals to the other Allies, he attached great importance to them. It was obviously not desirable at this stage to enter in public into the details.

Mr. Chamberlain added that exchange of views among the Allies had up to the present been very slight, and a fuller exchange of views and a closer examination of the purport and possibilities of the proposal were necessary before anything could be usefully or safely added to the subject.

Mr. Fisher queried whether newspaper reports roughly represented the proposal.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he preferred not to give appreciation of such important proposals which might possibly be the starting point of the real recovery of the European situation. "If our help is required to effect such a consummation, the help, also the goodwill, of this country will not be lacking."

GIVING HEED.

Mr. Chamberlain said that he had not yet formed any idea what form our co-operation would take. He referred to past efforts to withdraw from Continental entanglements, but said living twenty miles from the shores of the Continent we could not remain indifferent to the peace and security of the Continental world, nor could we remain callous and deaf to the appeal for help.

"It is not in a selfish short-sighted spirit of isolation that we shall exercise our mission of influence in the world now that we speak in consultation with the free self-governing Dominions."

Mr. Chamberlain concluded by saying: "Our greatness and power help to remove from the minds of men the trouble which still haunts them and recalls the agonies of a few years ago. They are a great call to endeavour, effort and service in the British Empire. I believe the Empire will gladly respond. (Cheers.)"

CONSULTING THE DOMINIONS.

Sir Edward Grigg (Liberal) recalled that the original pact with France, although ratified by Australia and New Zealand, was not ratified by Canada and South Africa. He declared that this was a serious consideration, but a new form of guarantee might probably commend itself more to the Dominions, while as regards South Africa it must be remembered that Holland was at present as much interested in the guarantee of these Eastern frontiers as any other power.

Sir John Simon, K.C. (Liberal), objected to security being linked up with the occupation of Cologne and said unless Germany seriously violated the treaty we were in Cologne without authority.

LABOUR'S PROTEST.

London, March 5. The Labour members did not return to the House of Commons during the foreign debate, but met and passed a resolution that while deprecating the persistent obstruction of business, there was no justification for the "peremptory and arbitrary action of Mr. Hope, the Chairman of Committees, in naming Mr. Kirkwood's slight interruptions which were in no wise provocative or disorderly."

The Executive subsequently decided to lodge a motion to the effect that as Mr. Hope had acted with undue haste and impatience, therefore the naming of Mr. Kirkwood was not warranted. ADMIRAL'S STATEMENT.

SINGAPORE WARSHIP CONCENTRATION ACCIDENTAL.

(Reuter's Service.)

Singapore, March 5. "The amount of bosh" being talked about the naval conference here, is deprecated by Vice-Admiral Sir Allan Everett, Commander-in-Chief of the China Station.

Interviewed by Reuter, he said that the meeting was in accordance with the Admiralty idea that every two years the commanders of adjacent stations should meet and discuss questions affecting them all.

They had not met to discuss the naval base any more than the price of bananas. The only thing was that supposing the three stations in the Pacific had to act together in a crisis—and he personally did not see one—they had got to arrange co-operative action.

The fact that there were so many ships at Singapore was accidental. The presence of the "Adelaide" was due to her returning from a cruise with the Special Service Squadron and was an expression of inter-changeability, the idea being to give her an opportunity of practising co-ordinating exercises in gunnery, torpedo work, etc.

The ships were collected here because it was the most convenient place for the three squadrons.

It is understood that at the conclusion of the conference, Admiral Richmond, Commander-in-Chief of the East Indies Station, will proceed to Ceylon, thence for a cruise in East African waters, in which the cruisers "Colombo" and "Cairo" will participate.

tunity to discuss the motion which will doubtless be granted immediately.

GERMANY AND FRANCE.

Paris, March 5. According to the "Echo de Paris," M. Herriot is willing to agree to the German suggestions concerning a pact of guarantee only under the following conditions: firstly, the conclusion of Franco-Anglo-Belgian military arrangements quite independent of the pact; secondly, Germany's entry into the League of Nations with the acceptance of all obligations required thereby; thirdly, extensive alteration in the German propositions regarding treaties of arbitration to be concluded with Poland and Czechoslovakia.

HOLLAND'S POSITION.

Paris, March 5. In an interview published in the "Matin" General Synders who commanded Dutch covering troops during the war, said that Holland would never agree to a guarantee pact on a limited basis, as by doing so she would be placing herself under the overlordship of the great powers. He added that Holland would not deviate from the principles of the League of Nations.

HANDS TIED?

The Conservative Major Sir Clive Morrison, Bell urged the Government to study jealously any agreement that put the British naval or other forces in pawn. Mr. Walter Runciman (Liberal) pressed Mr. Chamberlain to state his views on the protocol. He regretted that Britain had tied her hands by undertaking to support the re-appointment of the present French chairman of the Saar Commission.

Mr. Chamberlain, winding up the debate, denied that the Saar could be described as a danger spot in Europe, although he was not prepared to defend all that went on in the Saar administration.

As regards the Protocol, Mr. Chamberlain said that three months' deliberations had only just reached the stage where a statement could possibly be made. He was still uncertain in what form the Government decision would best be conveyed, but he expected to be called on to make an announcement at the next League meeting.

WORLD PEACE.

Mr. Chamberlain was averse from encouraging the signature of international documents of fundamental importance with a string of separate discordant reservations by many signatory Powers. It might sometimes be necessary to sign with reservations, but it was dangerous to have a chain of world peace on documents with reservations.

All the indications he was able to obtain about the state of opinion in other countries which had

JAPAN'S CURIOUS POSITION.

Russia China's "Only Sincere Friend"

That China regards the Union of Soviets as more than ever her "one and only sincere friend" is a belief firmly held in Russia.

BRITAIN'S POWER.

(Reuter's Service.)

Tiflis, March 5. M. Chicherin, Soviet Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, summing up the world situation, said Britain remained the most influential world Power militarily and financially, but a new factor was arising from the growing self-determination and aspirations of the Dominions which did not want to be drawn into any question not concerning them.

The action of the Conservative Government towards the Soviet had not occurred without pressure from the Dominions which regarded very hostilely the Soviet policy of equality to all nationalities and races.

There was certain to be a breach in Anglo-American relations, notably due to the new direction of American policy in China, which was now aimed at acquiring the sympathies of the Chinese people, and so departed from the policy of the other Powers.

Japan's vacillating policy was due to her dualistic position as an imperialistic power on the one hand and as the representative of the coloured races on the other.

The Russo-Chinese treaty allowed Japan's eagerness to cover her rear and was an appreciable departure from the predominance of a single entente.

The Orient, especially China, presented a picture of extraordinarily rapid development, and movement for national liberation.

THOSE DEBTS.

Tiflis, March 5. M. Chicherin, dealing exhaustively with foreign affairs, dwelt on the retirement of Mr. Charles Evans Hughes as America's Secretary of State, the turn of America's Chinese policy, and the necessity of America's more actively participating in international affairs.

He declared that the Soviet was striving for agreement on the debt question, but so that the industrial people of the Union of Soviets should not pay kopeck.

He asserted that resolution of the Wrangel fleet was an essential condition of any agreement with France.

M. Chicherin alluded to the unaltered friendship existing with Germany. He said that the Soviet was requesting exception from the most favoured nation clause for Germany respecting Eastern trade.

FRINDS IN THE EAST. The Soviet was strengthening its friendship with Eastern States, especially Turkey and Afghanistan. The Soviet representative at Hadjiaz was carrying out his duties as an observer following the course of momentous events in Amble.

The Soviet recognised Mongolia as a part of the whole Chinese Republic enjoying complete internal and external economy.

M. Chicherin declared that China regarded the Union of Soviets as increasingly her one and only sincere friend.

"The Chinese and Russian staffs were co-operating satisfactorily on the Eastern Chinese Railway."

Regarding the Japano-Soviet treaty, he said Japan wanted a friendly hinterland and a strengthening of her international and Asiatic Relations. The treaty was a prelude to further rapprochement.

STORE OF DRUGS. CHARGES AGAINST AN INDIAN

The hearing began at the Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday of the case in which one Karim Bux was charged with unlawful possession of a quantity of poison and with practising as a doctor without being registered.

Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith prosecuted, and Mr. E. J. Zillyn (instructed by Messrs. Deacons) appeared for the defence.

Opening his case, Mr. Whyte-Smith said that evidence would be produced to show that the accused, who resided at the Indian Mosque in Nathan Road, gave medical advice to certain persons, charging them for his services. It would also be shown that accused had an interest in a shop at No. 34, Halphong Road, where he appeared to have stored an additional quantity of drugs.

The drugs contained arsenic, opium, and other poisons which came under the Ordinance.

Captain Bloxham, A.S.P., who conducted the raids with other members of the force, described the finding of the drugs in locked boxes and a book case, on New Year's Eve. After the arrest of the accused, certain Indians handed witness other packets and bottles of medicine which were said to have come from the accused.

Cross-examined by Mr. Zillyn, witness said that he was unable to say which particular packet or bottle was found in each box. Accused occupied quarters separated from the shop, used by him and was not a place used by the Indians before they entered the Mosque. He had heard that there had been trouble between accused and the Halphong Road shopkeeper regarding the accounts of the firm.

The case was adjourned.

LOCAL CINEMA FEATURES. QUEEN'S THEATRE

"The Invisible Fear" starring Anita Stewart contains some beautiful sets which are highly artistic features.

In spite of Shakespeare's immortal remark about the play being the thing, the producer, Mr. Edwin Carewe, believes that a bit of action or a good situation, in order to appear effective, should have every advantage in the way of the proper setting. Consequently, the boudoir, drawing room and ball room scenes in the country mansion in "The Invisible Fear" represent a small fortune in architecture and furnishings.

"The Invisible Fear" will be the feature at the Queen's Theatre to-day only.

SOVIET RUSSIA. INTERESTING HONGKONGERS.

Some interesting remarks were made on the Russian Revolution at the conclusion of Professor John Smith's lecture on "Socialism, Syndicalism, and Anarchy" at the University Grant Hall yesterday afternoon. There the task of restoring order had been and was slow, but that was the price that had to be paid for a Government that was truly democratic.

Antony, means speedy government. Russia got a better popular representation among her governors but the method of government was slow.

Russia could not be blamed for what had happened, she had obeyed the principles of psychology and those who blocked her arms refused her food and medical help could not be blamed either, because they were merely obeying their psychological principles.

Dealing with the growth of societies representing the workers, the lecturer said that it was not until 1884 that workmen were allowed in France to meet regularly as trade unions. In England their movement had undergone change due to confessions on the part of employers. In France the movement had been kept down until 1884 and feeling on the matter was very bitter.

Syndicalism originated in France and there the Syndicalist adopted the teachings of Karl Marx whose doctrine was that there was no wealth, except that derived from the work of the workers, and the theory of the syndicalists was that all the necessary work of civilized society was performed by the poorer labouring classes, such as fighting, building, transport, food, housing and clothing.

The result of the movement in France was the formation of labour bureaus over the country with headquarters in Paris, and France found herself with a state within a state. In 1908 there was a great conflict at Marseilles which adopted the Marx creed, and at which it was decided that the ideal way for labour to get justice was to educate the workers by continual strikes, until labour was as disciplined as an army; in the end they could declare a general strike to paralyse the services of the nation. At the end of a fortnight they expected to have the ruling classes surrendering, and would then be able to do as they wished. But for the war some thing of the sort would have happened for some such strike was planned for Christmas 1911.

EXPERT DRIVERS. MODERATE CHARGES.

This photograph shows the broken window pane in the cigar store of the European Hotel, in Herrin, Illinois, where Deputy Sheriff Thomas shot it out with his long-time enemy, S. Glenn Young, Klan leader, and self-appointed "clean-up agent" in "Bloody Williamson County." Four men died as a result of the duel. State troops are now in command. Note the guardsman with fixed bayonet.

Son's Death.

Leon Daudet, leader of the French Royalists, whose son, Philippe, fourteen years old, was believed to have committed suicide in a Paris taxi cab a year ago, has presented to French courts evidence he declares implicates five persons, including police, in the "murder" of the lad.

Troops, with machine guns, again are on guard duty in "Bloody Herrin," following the pistol duel between Glenn Young, and Deputy Sheriff Thomas, both of whom were killed, along with two other men. Sheriff George Callaghan, whose chief deputy Thomas was, has sworn in additional deputies.

Miss Mary Ellen Mellon, was attacked in her home and kidnapped by robbers she surprised. When she attempted to scream, she was beaten, gagged, bound and carried to a waiting motor car.

'Countesses' Hoax Undergraduates.

Hearts of many university undergraduates at Evanston, fluttered when two supposed members of ousted Russian nobility appeared on the campus and told of their privations and sufferings. Affecting a semi-Russian dialect, Miss Sarah Anna Schweich and Miss Elena Panlayides, so duped the male of the species that numerous applications for "Counts" were made—until the hoax was discovered.

Miss Alma Nash, full-blooded Black Hawk Indian girl, has started for Australia to fulfil movie and theatrical contracts. She recently returned to her home after a nine months' triumphant appearance at the London Hippodrome. Miss Nash is the daughter of Al Nash, famous Indian runner of a decade ago.

Above are shown Father Ernest D'Aquila, with his assistant, Father Serrano Chiofan, the former the intended victim of a black-mail plot and Detective Humbert Bernardi, who helped foil the Sicilian blackmailers. Bernardi and two of the blackmailers were wounded in the gun battle which followed the finding by the Sicilians of a decoy package supposed to contain the $2,000 demanded. All the wounded will recover. The alleged blackmailers are under arrest.

Indian Scandal.

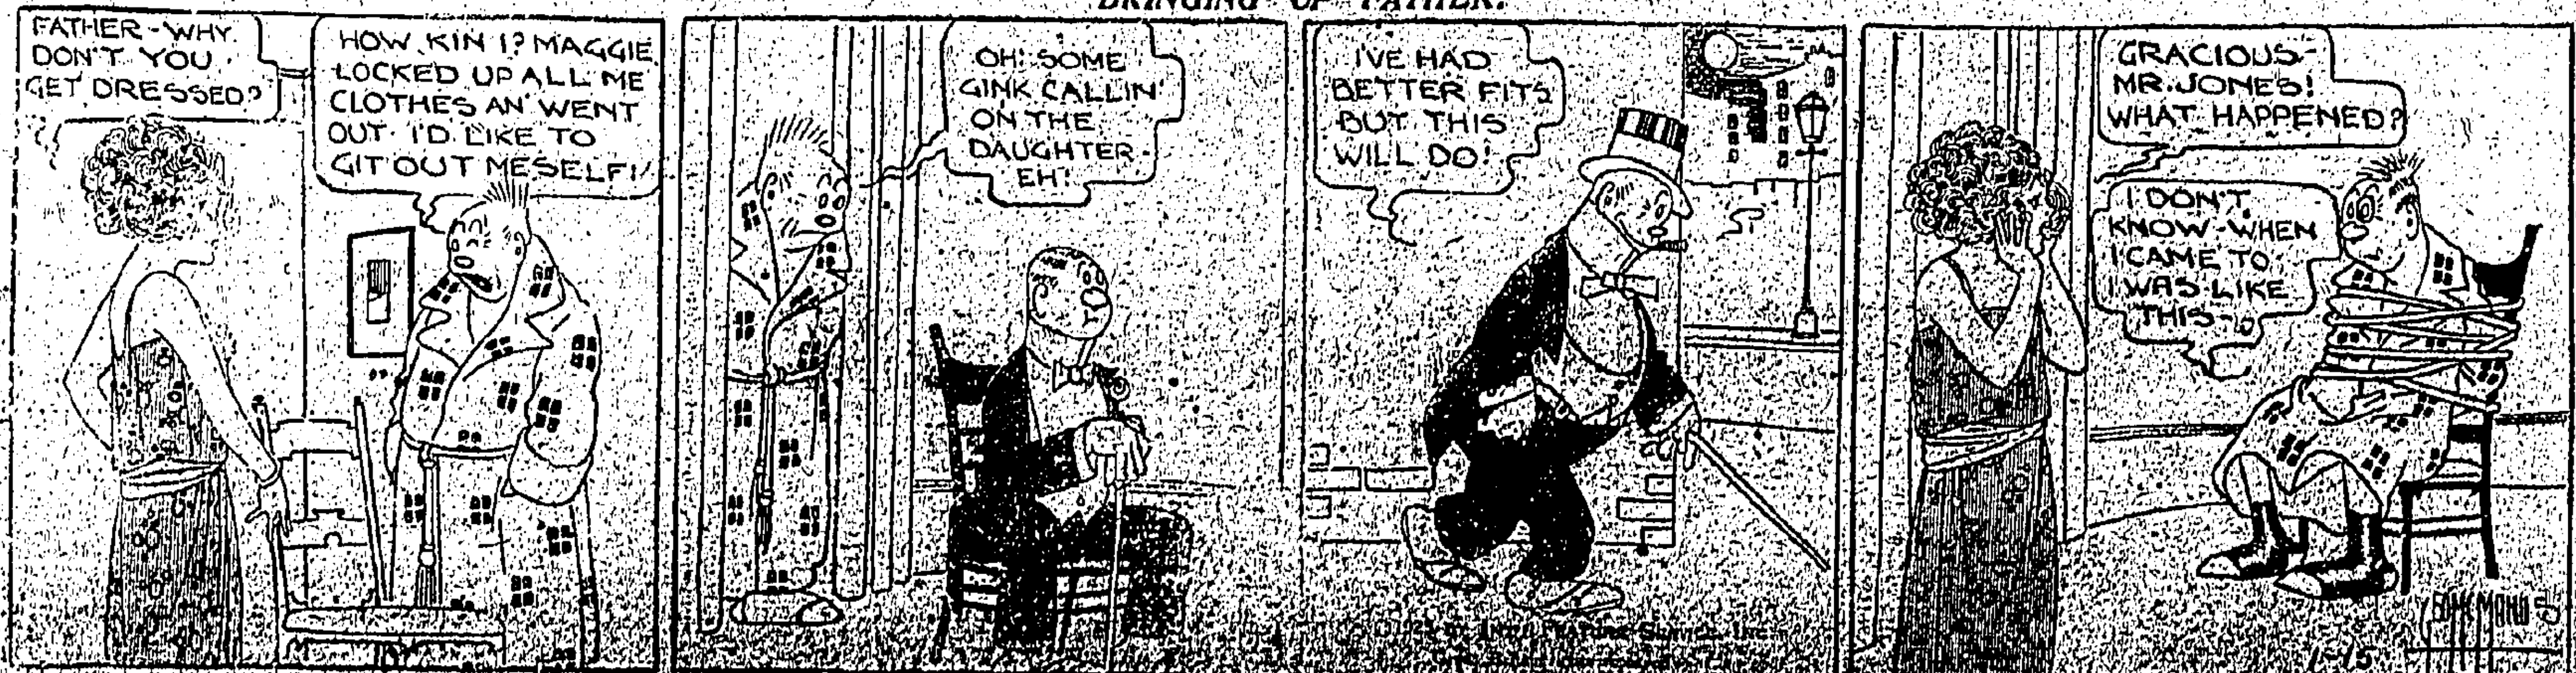

The immensely wealthy Maharajah of Indore is declared to have been the instigator of the attempted kidnapping in Bombay of the beautiful Indian dancing girl, Mumtaz Begum, formerly a member of his household. The kidnapping was frustrated by four British army officers, one of whom was killed. Seven Indore officials have been arrested.

Earl Carroll, famous theatrical producer, was rushed to hospital, following a serious attack of heart trouble. He is thirty-five years old. Tommy Gibbons, light heavyweight, has been signed up and Tex Richard, sports promoter, is negotiating with Jack Dempsey for a fifteen-round fight to a decision in New York about June 1, the winner to agree to meet Harry Wills, negro heavyweight. Giacomo de Martino, recently Italian Ambassador to Japan, has been appointed Ambassador to the United States.

MRS. MOTONOELECTRIC MASSAGE
51b, Wyndham St., 2nd Floor.WORLD OF SPORT.*BOXING.*FILIPINO BOYS' DEBUT IN SEATTLE.

Rufe Canton and Benny Foral, well known to Shanghai fans through their fine work there last year, made an excellent impression at their debut in Seattle on January 27, though neither of them succeeded in getting the decision over their opponents. They fought at Crystal Pool, before a packed house, Rufe being matched with Chuck Hell-man and Benny with Mike Mitchell.
Rufe appears to have gotten a raw deal when his fight with Hellman was adjudged a draw.
Hellman is from Portland; one, a sluggish pure and simple with a very good record, who has lost decisions to only four men in his thirty-five fights, and who recently knocked out Eddie Haddon in San Francisco.

Canton, however, waded right into the older boy throughout, out-fighting him in four out of the six rounds. The Seattle Daily Times reports the affair as follows:

As the well-known footballist
Mr. Andy Smith of California twice stated last season—

"I've had my pockets picked again."

That to-day must be the feelings of Rufe Canton, by six pounds the larger of N. D. Percival's paid of fighting Filipinos.

Rufe chased Chuck Hellman of Portland all around the ring; out-boxed him in four of the first five rounds, cut him to ribbons but couldn't land a knockout blow.

And when Hellman staged a sixth round rally, hitting the little Filipino boy hard enough to slow him up, the learned judges, possibly from habit, wrote draw.

Benny Foral, the other Percivalmanaged Filipino, lost to Mike Mitchell, but could have had a draw decision just as well as Helman. But he wore himself out carrying Mitchell around and hit him quite at will in the fourth.

The Filipinos made a nice impression. They are wonderful boxers, though neither one can knock out a rugged boy. They let themselves be tricked into carrying their opponents about on their shoulders too much.

They are audience pleasers though, both of them, like to fight, and their smiling faces showed throughout, and should get plenty of action on this side.

GIBBONS AND WILLS.

New York, February 22.—Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills to-day agreed to meet at the milk fund charity bout next summer. The bout will take place at one of the big league baseball parks, and will be scheduled for fifteen rounds, the winner to be matched later in the summer for a title match with Jack Dempsey, the heavyweight champion, provided the latter will agree to fight once more before retiring from the ring.

CRICKET.THE FAMOUS THIRD TEST MATCH.*AN AUSTRALIAN VIEW.

The Brisbane Courier on the day of the close of the third test match gave the following admirable summary of the position:—

It rests with Gilligan, Freeman, and Strudwick whether or no England will to-day secure a victory which will be acclaimed by sportsmen throughout the world, generally, and cricket enthusiasts in particular, as one of the greatest exhibitions of bulldog grit and tenacity of purpose ever recorded. But even though the refreshed Australian attack proves too much for the tall, which wagged so effectively yesterday, the honours (morally) will be with the tourists, who have plugged on magnificently in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds.

On a wicket the Australians had found check-full of tricks, England made a meritorious start, and confounded the best judges by compiling 133 for the loss of three wickets. They still, however, were 242 runs away from success when play was resumed yesterday, and he was indeed a superstitious who was confident that England would not find the task beyond them.

The story of yesterday's duel between bat and ball is a narrative of supreme endeavour in which several players on both sides
Whysall and Chapman rendered invaluable service, and Gilligan and Freeman (two crumpies) performed with real valour, there is the truly sensational catch by Gregory, which ended Whysall's career, and the wonderful effort by

POLO.ACCIDENT AT HANKOW.

An unfortunate accident occurred at the Hankow Race Club during a polo game between the Club and a combined Navy team when Mr. L. J. Machin, manager of the Robinson Piano Co., was obliged to retire early in the game with a broken rib. He was immediately attended by Dr. Mc-Willie.

Ryder, which accounted for Chapman.
The three remaining Englishmen are asked to average nine runs each. It is not asking a great deal, but few will envy them the ordeal which they have to undergo.

W. G. GRACE'S VIEWS ON BOWLING.

Arthur Gilligan, the English captain, acts contrary to every opinion of W. G. Grace, who knew more about cricket than any ten others. But then Gilligan has never managed his bowling well.
He keeps Tate on too long, and he makes the mistake of always opening the bowling in big games and most others with Tate and himself. Hear what Grace once told Mr. H. G. Tylecote and now related in the Field.

"Always have four bowlers, a fast one, a medium fast, a slow bowler and a left-hand bowler if you can get one. Never put two fast bowlers on to start with, especially if they both bowl over the wicket; nothing gets a man's eye in better than two fast bowlers on a plumb wicket. Begin with a slow bowler and a fast one, and you will soon see which the ground suits the best and which the batsmen shape at worst.
Change after 15 to 20 runs, unless the batsmen seem stuck up, but do not keep the fast bowler on too long or he will lose his sting, and he is often more useful for the end batsmen. If you have a good left-hand slow bowler do not forget to put him on, very soon. It is no use expecting him to get men out at once when they have got their eye in."
